Head's Message

Dear Students, Parents, and Educators,

In a world of uncertainty, it is natural to feel concerned. Yet, these are the moments when our role as educators and learners matters most. Our children, though sensitive, are resilient, and our mission is to help them adapt to change with courage. Let us also be mindful of how we use resources, making wise and patient choices each day. As final assessments continue, students are encouraged to stay calm, focused, and confident in what they have learned.

Remember, while we cannot control every storm, we can strengthen ourselves to face it.
